Our decision regarding the ICP we recommend for Patient X is based on a number of factors. Patient satisfaction ratings, as shown in the feedback, were very strongly in favour of option 2. However, we have to bear in mind that from the point of view of some of our practitioners, this is not the best option. In the case of those who have used it in draft form, the feedback has been mostly negative. In addition to / As well as this, increased cost has been a factor.
