

8.3_B

| Sentence | Main clause                               | (Subordinating conjunction) | Dependent clause                           |                       |              |
|----------|-------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------|--------------|
|          |                                           |                             | Subject                                    | Verb                  | By whom/what |
| a        | There are three key aspects of prevention | -                           | which(three key aspects of prevention) | have to be considered | by all GPs.  |
| b        |                                           |                             |                                            |                       |              |
| c        |                                           |                             |                                            |                       |              |
| d        |                                           |                             |                                            |                       |              |

8.3_B

Answers

| Sentence | Main clause                                                                             | (Subordinating conjunction) | Dependent clause                           |                               |                                                                  |
|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
|          |                                                                                         |                             | Subject                                    | Verb                          | By whom/what                                                     |
| a        | There are three key aspects of prevention                                               | –                           | which(three key aspects of prevention) | have to be considered         | by all GPs.                                                      |
| b        | ... diabetes can often be self-managed quite effectively by the patient.                | Once                        | it(diabetes)                           | is diagnosed                  | by a GP,                                                         |
| c        | Diseases ... include cervical cancer, breast cancer and some types of heart disease.    | –                           | that(diseases)                         | can be effectively identified | by screening                                                     |
| d        | Smoking prevalence ... is a key issue for primary care in the 21 st century. | –                           | which(smoking prevalence)              | can be reduced                | by lifestyle modification initiatives such as cessation clinics, |